CONCLUSION

The ultrathin Supraflex biodegradable polymer SES was non-inferior to the Xience durable polymer EES for DOCE at 12 months in an all-comer population with a lower rate of CI-TLR in the per protocol analysis.

In per protocol analysis (only study stent used, no crossover to any other stent) Supraflex shows significant 61% reduction in Clinically Indicated TLR as compared to Xience stent.

The Definite and Probable stent thrombosis shows no difference in outcome.
